What are the risks?

With the average enquiry taking up to 24 months to conclude, the associated costs can quickly escalate, yet the cost of not defending enquiries to their full extent can be substantially higher.

With HMRC forecasting an increase in compliance activity, coupled with the cost of living crisis and looming recession, it is more important than ever to ensure you're protected against unexpected costs that could add financial pressure to your business.

HMRC enquiries are better targeted and are being undertaken with an unprecedented level of detail and persistence, with approved Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme and Self-Employment Income Support Scheme payments, in particular, under the microscope.

Even if you've done nothing wrong, you may still be selected for a detailed review of your tax affairs. It's therefore a huge financial risk to not be protected against the growing number of HMRC enquiries.

HMRC CONTINUE TO NARROW THE TAX GAP

The UK tax gap is estimated to be 5.1%, continuing a long-term reduction in the overall tax gap, falling from 7.5% in 2005/6. This means HMRC secured nearly 95% of all taxes due against the backdrop of COVID-19.

In the 2020/21 financial year, HMRC's revenue was £608.8 billion. This has increased again to £731.1 billion protected in the financial year 2021/22. This is higher than pre-pandemic levels across all taxes.

With HMRC's continued drive for compliance, make sure you are protected with our comprehensive tax investigations package.

Who's most at risk of a tax investigation?

Tax investigations can happen to anyone – whether you are an individual or in business – however good your records are. HMRC regularly undertake random enquiries as a means of policing the system.

PLUMBING

A plumbing company was subject to an HMRC employer compliance review. What began with the completion of a payroll questionnaire and follow-up conference call between the directors and HMRC soon snowballed into further requests for details of the payroll software, copies of payslips, bonuses, expenses credit card statements, mileage records, copy of the employee handbook, etc. All of this information was provided with assistance and guidance from the practice. HMRC ultimately closed the matter with no additional tax / NIC to be paid. Final costs were nevertheless almost £1,500.

SOFTWARE COMPANY

An SME was selected for an HMRC enquiry into the company's claim for Research & Development Tax Credit Relief to check the qualifying expenditure. A detailed reply was provided by the practice and a conference call held with HMRC to explain the R&D claim. As a result, HMRC were able to close the enquiry with no adjustments and the costs incurred were just over £6,000.

PERSONAL TAX ENQUIRY

HMRC opened an enquiry into an individual's Capital Gains Tax position, rollover relief and income from property. At the outset, HMRC requested a substantial amount of information. A detailed reply was provided, but HMRC continued to challenge the claim for rollover relief. After further correspondence, the enquiry was closed without any amendment to the return. The fees incurred for representation in respect of the enquiry totalled £13,000.

LANDLORD

HMRC enquired into an individual with several rental properties in the UK and abroad. HMRC initially requested large amounts of information in respect of all land and property which was provided in detail. HMRC then narrowed down their enquiries to focus on the funding of property purchases. Further information was provided and HMRC ultimately accepted the position but despite no tax to pay fees were still £5,000, thankfully met by the tax investigations package.
